*课程简介 (Description)	“College English Listening and Speaking A” complies with the basic requirements of College English Teaching Guide (2020 Edition), fully considers the instrumental and humanistic nature of the English subject and focuses on consolidating students’ basic skills in the first semester of the University. Language learning, language skill training and humanistic quality training are integrated into this course so as to improve students’ core English subject quality. The features of this course are mainly reflected in the following three aspects: 1. Value guidance. In learning the language, the students will understand diverse societies and cultures, enhance their understanding of cultural similarities and differences and build cultural self-confidence. While focusing on developing students’ comprehensive language capability, enhancing their oral English and cross-cultural communication skills, this course also provides diversified resources

	for language learning. Humanistic education such as Chinese philosophies and values, patriotism, and morality cultivation will also be properly integrated into the course. 2. Knowledge transfer. The teachers adopt heuristics, collaboration, theme discussion and other teaching methods to stimulate students to immerse themselves in studies and modern technologies such as multimedia, computers and mobile phones are used for online and offline activities, which embodies the student-centered teaching concept. 3. Development of abilities. On the basis of knowledge transfer, students are trained to apply listening and speaking skills and communicate in the actual context. The course emphasizes the all-round development of students and the improvement of their comprehensive abilities, including language application, autonomous learning, critical thinking, interpersonal communication, group cooperation and many others. Attendance, class participation and homework are the basic criteria for assessing the students' daily academic performance. This course requires students to attend classes on time, actively participate in class activities and complete assignments such as listening exercises, oral presentation, group discussion in a timely manner.
